“The Importance of Fathers”

For many seasons in the past, we enjoyed the television series, “Father Knows Best.” Now in nostalgia, we look back on the many laughs the family enjoyed at “Father’s” expense. In reality, this show depicted the mother as having all the answers. Maybe mothers do know best, but in view of contemporary teenage challenges, one wonders if either father or mother can keep up with all the issues!

The contribution a father makes to a family is not easily identified or duplicated. His strong presence suggests a rugged demand even though he may be a soft touch. He is a balance to mother emotionally. He influences children in a way mother cannot. Each parent in fact provides a unique dimension to child-raising. A father's love is tempered, extensive and proven. He may demand little, but his voice has power.

The current structure of our families in the United States shows an ever increasing number of single parent units. In most instances, the mother is the sole parent. What a void in a child's life to miss the vibrant contribution of a father! As much as the mother may try, no one can replace the role of a father.

On this Father's Day, as we acknowledge all the dads among us and thank them for their protective guidance, may we challenge them to be the very positive influence they know they can provide. Whether in resolving problems, providing a listening ear, doing chores around the house, offering a vision of the future, challenging each member to be the best they can be or just being there for all, the role of a father is pivotal to the success of the family as a unit and to each person individually. Thank you for being you, Dad!

Happy Father's Day!

Blessings,
Father Vincent T. Kelly

HAPPY FATHER'S DAY

May we extend sincere thanks to all the fathers among us for their love, support and witness. They are a vital part of the life of the family, the community, and the church.

May they be blessed by the Heavenly Father. We commend the fathers who have gone before us. May they reside in eternal peace with their God.

Blessed indeed is the man who hears many gentle voices call him father.
